PRESINTING OUR INTRODUCTIONS

be identified henceforth as the "EARLY AUDICAN" blood line. These dahlia varieties are so named to recall the past glories of a mose proud people, the vanishing American Indian. Mis "palamines" princers may never learn some of the secrets of the India, the exact extent of the Azter civilization, nor the beauty of the Cherokee language. We are proud to remember the good, the greatness of neart and the investor of character among these people by nating our new originations in their memory. Watch for these "Early American" dahlias on the short labias of the nation; and above all, grow than in your dahlia garden this years The "Early American" dahlias are not expensive. Only 15,000 per rook.
